Williames Nursery Racks and Rolling Benches reduce the multiple handling of trays in the nursery and provide substantial fixed cost savings in all phases of production: from filling to growing through seedling stage and to planting in the field.

- Various models available to stack on top of each other with self-locating tabs suited for forklift stacking
- Robust and long-lasting racks are hot-dipped galvanised for maximum protection against corrosion
- Designed for trays to slide on and off to enable automated loading and unloading
